Donate Stock to Cordoba Academy

Turn Your Investments Into an Investment in Our Students

Cordoba Academy gratefully accepts gifts of publicly traded stocks and other eligible securities.

For donors who own appreciated investments, giving stock directly can be a tax-efficient way to support Cordoba Academy while making a meaningful impact on our students, programs, and future growth.

Why Consider Donating Stock?

If you have investments that have increased substantially in value, donating the shares directly rather than selling them and donating the proceeds may provide important tax benefits.

For eligible appreciated securities held for more than one year, donors may potentially:

- Avoid capital gains tax that would otherwise result from selling appreciated shares.
- Receive a charitable income tax deduction generally based on the eligible fair market value of the donated securities, subject to applicable IRS rules and limitations.
- Increase the impact of their charitable giving by allowing the full value of the donated securities to support Cordoba Academy.

Here's a Simple Example

Imagine you purchased shares several years ago for $4,000 and those shares are now worth $10,000.

If you sell the shares, you have a $6,000 capital gain that may be subject to capital gains tax.

Instead, you could donate the shares directly to Cordoba Academy.

You may be able to avoid recognizing the capital gain while potentially qualifying for a charitable deduction based on the eligible fair market value of the donated shares.

The result: more of the value you've built can go toward the causes you care about.

How to Donate Securities to Cordoba Academy

You can initiate the gift through the financial institution where your investments are held, including firms such as Fidelity, Charles Schwab, Vanguard, Merrill, E*TRADE, and others.

Tell your brokerage that you would like to make a:

“Charitable gift of securities via DTC transfer.”

Provide them with the following receiving instructions:

Already Initiated Your Stock Gift?

Thank you for supporting Cordoba Academy!

Because securities can sometimes arrive in our brokerage account without sufficient donor information, please let us know after initiating your transfer.

Notify Cordoba of My Stock Gift

Please provide your name, contact information, the security being donated, approximate number of shares, and expected transfer date.

Please do not provide your personal brokerage account number.

Once your gift has been received and identified, Cordoba Academy will provide an appropriate charitable contribution acknowledgment.
